

Travel Fire Safety Checklist

Fire safety is super important no matter where you go. Whether you're hitting the road, taking a flight, or exploring a new place, here are some easy tips to keep in mind when you arrive at your destination:

REVIEW YOUR ACCOMMODATION'S PROCEDURES

- Take a moment to familiarise yourself with the fire safety features.

- Locate smoke alarms, emergency exits and the fire extinguishers or blankets.

- Be sure to test each smoke alarm. Gently push the test button and hold for approximately 10 seconds until you hear it beep.

KNOW YOUR ESCAPE ROUTES

- Take a moment to identify emergency exits and escape routes.

- Plan how you and your family would exit in the event of a fire.

- Establish a meeting point outside where everyone can gather safely.

PACK A MINI EMERGENCY KIT

- Torch: To help you navigate in smoke or during a power outage.

- Extra batteries: Keep your torch and other devices ready to go.

- Portable phone charger: Ensure your phone stays charged for emergency calls.

- First-aid supplies: Bandages, burn cream, and pain relief for minor injuries.

Travel Fire Safety Checklist

BE CAUTIOUS WITH COOKING APPLIANCES

- Take care when using cooking appliances like stoves, ovens, and microwaves.

- Follow the cooking instructions carefully, and never leave the kitchen unattended.

- Keep flammable items like dish towels and curtains away from heat sources.

PRACTICE ELECTRICAL SAFETY

- Inspect the outlets and cords for any signs of damage before plugging in any devices or chargers.

- Avoid overloading electrical sockets, and never leave devices charging unattended, especially overnight.

REPORT SAFETY CONCERNS

- Report any fire safety concerns, such as blocked exits or malfunctioning smoke alarms, to the property management immediately.

Remember, your family's safety is the top priority during your travel adventures. By following these simple fire safety tips, you can enjoy your getaway and make unforgettable memories, whilst keeping your family safe from fire dangers.
